SIERRA APPLIES FOR SUBSIDY FOR MAELS

That the Oceanic steamer Sierra will not return to the Honolulu-San Francisco run after she leaves the dry dock at Hunter's Point, San Francisco, in November, but will go on the longer run to Sydney is the belief expressed by officers of the Oceanic steamer Sonoma, an arrival from the mainland this morning.

The only thing, in the opinion of the Oceanic line officers, which may prevent the Sierra going on the Sydney-San Francisco run is the lack of a mail subsidy. It is understood that the Oceanic company has petitioned the post-office department for such a subsidy similar to the contracts held by the Sonoma and Ventura.

The Sonoma was greeted with good weather after leaving the Golden Gate Tuesday afternoon. She docked at 8:15 this morning and will depart at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Pago Pago and Sydney. She brought 217 bags of mail and 47 tons of cargo to Honolulu besides 108 cabin and nine steerage passengers.

On board the steamer is Ship Surgeon MacKeechle of the Sierra. Dr. MacKeechle has resigned and is now on his way to Australia, from where he will be sent to the British army at the Dardanelles.

NO WIRELESS FOR INTER-ISLAND STEAMERS

According to an official on one of the inter-island steam navigation company's boats today, wireless apparatus is to be installed at once on the vessels. The company's headquarters in Honolulu, however, when asked for its side of the story, denied at noon that any such action is contemplated.

"The federal law does not require us to carry wireless equipment," said Joseph E. Shedy, general superintendent of the inter-island, "as the act applies only to boats making trips of more than 200 miles between ports, and of 24 hours or more duration. Our longest trip between ports is 96 miles, from Honolulu to Nawiliwili, so that we are not required to install wireless."

The company operates 16 steamers between Honolulu and the various islands of the Territory of Hawaii. For some time it has been rumored that wireless was to be installed, but the company's officials here claim "there's nothing to it."

CAPT. HOUDLETTE GIVES UP COMMAND OF SIERRA

After nearly 25 years of service Capt. H. C. Houdlette of the Oceanic steamer Sierra, commodore of the Oceanic fleet, has retired from the line's employ, according to San Francisco despatches. The captain is 73 years old and wise in knowledge of the sea.

Capt. Houdlette is one of the best known and most admired men ever calling at Honolulu and San Francisco. Of his 35 1/2 years of service 15 were passed on the Sierra. He brought the boat around the Horn on her maiden voyage from Philadelphia in 1900.

In a quarrel among lumbermen near third Connecticut Lake, Melara Porsario was killed by a blow from an axe.

Charles A. Blakesley, a newspaper paragrapher of the Kansas City Star, died in Kansas City recently of typhoid fever.

SEALED PROPOSALS. endorsed "Proposals for Freight Elevators," will be received at the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., until 11 o'clock a. m., August 28, 1915, and then are being publicly opened, for three hydraulic freight elevators, installed complete, at the Naval Station, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Plan and specification may be obtained on application to the Bureau or to the Commandant of the Naval Station named, WM. M. SMITH, Acting Chief of Bureau, July 27, 1915. 6237-Aug. 9, 16.

HARBOR NOTES

Mail for San Francisco and the states will go out tomorrow morning about 10 on the Mongolia, which arrived today from the Far East.

The British freighter Indra is due to arrive here tomorrow, bringing a general cargo from the eastern states by way of the Panama canal, the inter-island offices report.

A Japanese freighter, the Kongo San Maru, should arrive here August 13 or 14 from New York, by way of the Panama canal, according to the inter-island offices today.

Mail from San Francisco is being brought here by the Japanese steamer Tenyo Maru, which is due to reach here Friday. The boat left the exposition city Saturday afternoon, for this city, Yokohama and other Oriental ports.

The Manoa is due to dock here at 7:30 tomorrow morning from San Francisco, with 78 passengers for Honolulu, 33 sacks of mail, nine and 248 tons of cargo for Honolulu. She carries considerable cargo for other island ports.

The Andrew Welch, formerly in the sugar trade and passenger service between the islands and San Francisco, has been sold for $45,000 to G. W. McNary & Company. She has not been in service since 1913 and has been lying in Oakland estuary.

Early Thursday morning the Ventura is due to arrive at Pier 10 from Australia, probably about 6:30 o'clock, bringing nine first cabin, four second cabin passengers, 14 sacks of mail and 270 tons of general cargo for Honolulu. The boat is due to sail at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

A full passenger list of 125 persons will be carried to San Francisco by the Wilhelmnia which leaves here Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from Pier 15. The cargo will total 700 tons, mostly canned pineapples. The boat, of which Capt. Peter Johnson is master, arrived here yesterday from Hilo.

The Mongolia will dock about 6 o'clock this evening from the Orient at Pier 7. Among her passengers is Colonel Sam Johnson, who will take office as adjutant general of the national guard. The Mongolia will depart for San Francisco at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. She will take the next mail to the coast. The mails will close at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

A lane of nets between the English and French coasts starting at Dover and ending at Calais, protects British transports, according to an officer of the British steamer Valdura, which stopped here late Saturday for bunker coal from the inter-island. Last November the officers of the Valdura witnessed the first encounter between the British and Turks at Blisarah, Mesopotamia. The vessel is bound for the Orient, carrying 217,000 cases of kerosene from New York to Kluksang.

British steamers traversing the Mediterranean have been warned to look out for German submarines, according to an officer of the steamer Telega, arriving here yesterday from New Orleans and Panama. The British admiral has advised steamer captains, the officer said, that the Germans are operating submarines in the Mediterranean. This is the Telega's first call here. The boat is carrying 2,070,649 gallons of kerosene and 147,365 gallons of fuel oil in bulk. She left late today for Tientsin by way of Nagasaki, for orders.

The police of Patterson announced that the capture of William Birdsell, after a revolver duel at Athena, N. J., may solve the long series of robberies that has terrorized the east side of that city for six weeks.

CARGOES TO AND FROM RUSSIA IN BIG WAR

Traveling side by side from New York via Colon and Honolulu for Vladivostok the Japanese steamer Takata Maru and the British steamer City of Hankow are both carrying supplies for the Russian army.

The Takata Maru carries 8500 tons of steel rails for the double-tracking of the Trans-Siberian railroad, and 3000 tons of the new style barbed wire, which is about one-fourth of an inch thick and has prongs nearly an inch long. This is to be used in defending the Russian trenches.

The City of Hankow also carries barbed wire, but it is of the common or garden variety. Of her total cargo of 10,800 tons of general cargo 3000 of it is for Vladivostok and the rest for Japanese ports and Shanghai.

On arrival at Per for bunker coal today Capt. A. E. Moses of the Takata Maru was greeted by Fred Whitney, agent of the American-Hawaiian agency. Capt. Moses met Mr. Whitney 30 years ago in Honolulu when the commander last visited this port as master of the Japanese steamer Ryogin Maru. Both the Takata Maru and the City of Hankow were 18 days out of the canal on arrival here this morning for coal. They traveled side by side from New York to this port.

Capt. W. J. Hannaford of the City of Hankow said he left London June 13, and that while there he had heard the report that the British military authorities have stretched a wire net across the English channel. Capt. Hannaford believes that the submarines which are attacking the British steamers off the coast of Ireland got to the point of attack by cruising around the north of Scotland.
